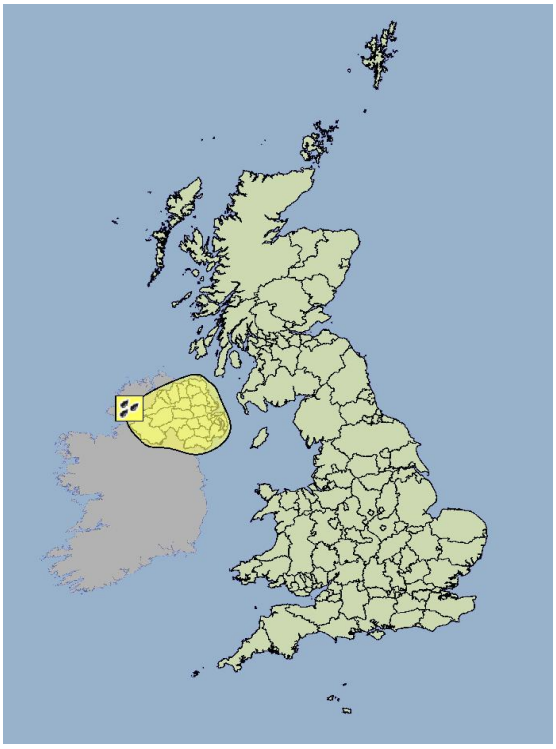
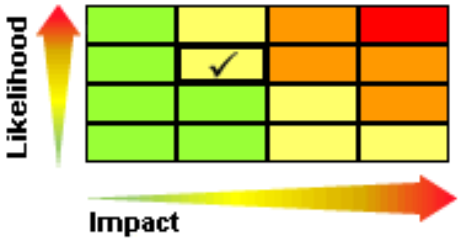
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An area of rain will move eastwards across Northern Ireland during Saturday afternoon and evening bringing 15-25 mm of rain to many places. This rain will be persistent and heavy at times, turning to snow on high ground. As the rain clears to the east in the late evening snow will penetrate down to low levels. Accumulations of 5 cm of snow are likely on ground above 250 m with 1-2 cm accumulating in places at low levels.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 15:00 on Sat, 10th Feb 2018 until 23:55 on Sat, 10th Feb 2018

Heavy rain is expected across Northern Ireland during Saturday afternoon and evening. The rain will turn increasingly to snow on higher ground and perhaps to low levels as it clears later in the evening.

Some roads and railways are likely to be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services. Some interruption to power supplies and other services is possible.
